What to Do if You Witness a Car Crash

Witnessing a car accident is traumatic and your response will most likely be dictated by the severity of the crash and the condition of the people involved in the accident. It's best if you stay on the scene until police and other emergency services arrive, especially if you are the only person or one of a very few people who saw the accident. Below are some guidelines for helping at the scene of a crash:

- Safety is priority—yours and that of other drivers who will be approaching. Move your vehicle completely off the road and clear of the collision. You don't want to cause another accident by trying to help at a crash site. Put your emergency flashers on to alert others to slow down.
- Next, check to see if anyone involved in the accident is injured. Do this from a distance—don't touch anyone unless you believe there is imminent danger of a car fire or other emergency. Although Georgia has Good Samaritan Laws to protect well-meaning people, moving someone incorrectly can make an injury worse so leave that to the EMS staff.
- Call the police and 911 to report the accident and get medical help. Be prepared to give as much information as possible such as location on the road, number of people injured, etc.
- Stay calm and try to soothe anyone who has been involved, reassuring them that help is on the way.
- If it's safe to do so, help move damaged vehicles out of traffic. Do not drive someone else's vehicle unless you are told to by an emergency worker or police officer.
- Take photos of the scene. These may prove immensely helpful to accident victims.
- Provide contact information to those involved in the accident and police in case there are questions about the crash that you may be able to answer.

Your actions at the scene of an accident can make a big difference to those involved and the safety of other drivers.

8 Tips for Using Your Fireplace Safely

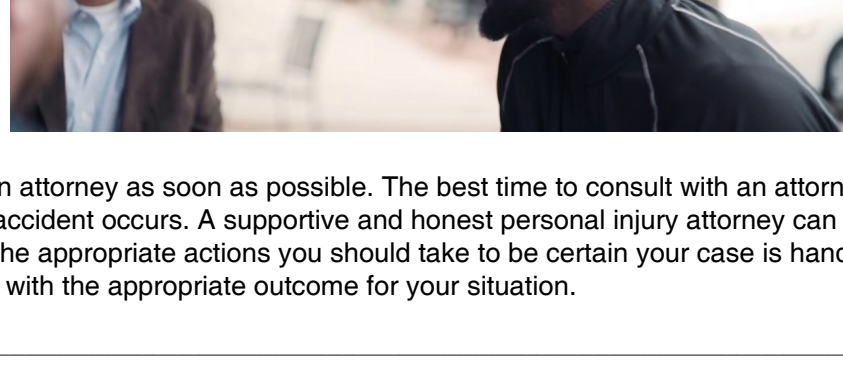

Chilly fall days are the perfect time for curling up next to a crackling fire. Make sure your family can enjoy this seasonal treat by taking the proper precautions in maintaining and operating your fireplace. Below are 8 fireplace safety tips:

1. Get your fireplace inspected and cleaned by a certified chimney specialist annually.
2. Test your smoke and carbon monoxide detectors to make sure batteries are good and detectors are functioning properly.
3. Light your fire with a match or commercial firelighter. Do not use lighter fluid or other flammable liquids to start the fire.
4. Make sure the flue is fully open before starting the fire and do not close the damper until the fire is completely out.
5. Keep the area surrounding the hearth free of decorations, paper and other items that could catch on fire from sparking wood.
6. Always use a screen in front of your fireplace to prevent embers from escaping.
7. Don't burn anything other than dry wood or commercial fireplace logs. Wrapping paper, cardboard boxes, pine tree branches and other trash can release toxic fumes and increase creosote buildup that increases the risk of chimney fires.
8. Never leave a fire burning in your fireplace unattended. Always be sure that the fire is fully out before going to bed or leaving the house.

If you or a family member has been injured in an auto accident, truck accident, motorcycle accident, slip and fall or by any other type of personal injury, or if you have been denied Workers' Compensation, it's important to get an attorney experienced in these types of cases involved immediately. Call 470-558-0318 for your initial free consultation. Adamson & Cleveland, LLC, injury attorneys in Georgia, can help you determine whether you need a lawyer for an accident or any personal injury case.

Why Is It Important Not to Wait to Hire an Attorney

Talk to an attorney as soon as possible. The best time to consult with an attorney is right after an accident occurs. A supportive and honest personal injury attorney can guide you through the appropriate actions you should take to be certain your case is handled properly, with the appropriate outcome for your situation.

Recipe of the Month Harvest Chicken Casserole

This satisfying casserole has ALL your fall favorites and makes enough to feed a large family.

INGREDIENTS

- 2 tbsp. extra-virgin olive oil, divided, plus more for baking dish
- 2 lb. boneless skinless chicken breasts
- Kosher salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 onion, chopped
- 2 medium sweet potatoes, peeled and cut into small cubes
- 1 lb. brussels sprouts, trimmed and quartered
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tsp. fresh thyme leaves
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 tsp. ground cumin
- 1/2 c. low-sodium chicken broth, divided
- 6 c. cooked wild rice
- 1/2 c. dried cranberries
- 1/2 c. sliced almonds

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 350° and grease a 9"-x-13" baking dish with oil. In a large, deep skillet over medium-high heat, heat 1 tablespoon oil. Season chicken with salt and pepper. Add chicken to skillet and cook until golden and cooked through, 8 minutes per side. Let rest 10 minutes, then cut into 1" pieces.
2. Heat another tablespoon oil over medium heat. Add onion, sweet potatoes, Brussels sprouts, garlic, thyme, paprika, and cumin. Season with salt and pepper and cook until softened, 5 minutes. Add 1/4 cup broth, bring to a simmer, and cook, covered, 5 minutes.
3. Place cooked rice in a large baking dish and season with salt and pepper. Stir in chicken, cranberries, cooked vegetables, and remaining 1/4 cup broth. Top with almonds and bake until dish is hot, and almonds are toasted, 15 to 18 minutes.
